From the Cheveland Berukt of March 28.

The orthography of the Worcester Dictionary is that used by most, if not all, authors of distinction in this country and England, and conforms to the general usage of ordinary writers and speakers.

Whatever projudices may have existed previously, a careful study of this volume will invariably be followed by a warm appreciation of its great meets, and a desire to add it to the well selected library, be it large or mail, It is a library in itself, and will remain an imperishable record of the learning of its compiler.

From the Cincinnati Commercial of April 20.

Here are upwards of a hundred thousand words—good, bad and indifferent—whose multifarious meanings and derivations, together with their correct spelling and pronunciation, are set clearly before the eye. The work is an questionably the greatest Thesaurus of English Words ever published.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

effectual Alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROPULA AND SCROPULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTORES, TOMORS, SALT RREUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AV-PECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-PARTOIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDICESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Imputtry or

This compound will be ound a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is ob-structed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla. or any thing else.

During late years the public have been mis-led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, hut often no curative properties whatev er. Hence, bitter and painful disappointmen has followed the use of the various extracts of sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the sarsaparina which nood the harket, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for bolicying it has virtues which are irresistible pelieving it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intend ed to cure. In order to secure their complete cradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on

do hereby certify that, in discharge of the duty devolved on me by the provisions of an act of Congress, approved May 23d, 1850, entitled 'An act providing for the taking of the seventh and subsequent censuses of the United States, and to fix the number of the members of the House of Representatives, and to provide for the future apportionment among the several States,' I have apportioned the Representatives for the Thirty eighth Congress among the several States as provided for by said act in the manner directed by the twenty-fifth section thereof.
And I do hereby further certify that the following is a correct statement of the number of Representatives apportioned to each State of

The aggregate being two hundred and thirty-three (233) Representatives.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto sub-scribed my name and caused the seal of the De-partment of the Interior to be affixed, this fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thou-sand eight hundred and sixty-one, and of the independence of the United States of America the eighty-sixth. [From the Hartford Times. Gov. Seymour's Peace Offering. Connecticut Legislature, July 3.—War resolutions, introduced into the House, as passed by the Senate, being the subject of discussion, Gov. Seymour offered a substitute, and spoke against the war resolutions as follows. (We give his words just as they were taken down in our report, made as they were taken down in our report, made as they were spoken):

Gov. Seymour cose, and spoke against the war resolutions. He said: I thank the gentleman from Stratford for his remarks last night. He was right in his position. His speech was a patriotic one. Sir, I am on this floor as the advocate of peace measures! I will not sanction patriotic one. Sir, I am on this floor as the advocate of peace measures! I will not sanction this war, except so far as it can be waged on constitutional grounds. This question now wears a totally different aspect from that which it presented when the President issued his call for volunteers. Then it was for the "protection of the Capital, and the repossession of forts." I am heartily glad that the Capital is protected. I would protect the Federal Capital and the archives. But nothing has been done to recapture the forts. But a movement done to recapture the forts. But a movement of invasion has been commenced — an invasion of a sovereign State. I think saying there is a movement—growing sen-timent among the people, in favor of a peace-ful settlement—of an honorable peace! I go with him, and with all who are in favor of Peace Measures instead of War Measures!— There seems to be a radical mistake on the Prace Measures instead of War Measures!—

There seems to be a radical mistake on the part of many people—they seem to think the South can be conquered. Sir, this is impossible! It can no more be done than the South can conquer the North! There are brave men there as well as here. In Revolutionary days we knew something of them. In the war of 1812 they rallied around our flag and protected our commerce. Now it is not well to underrate the prowess of our enemies—as you call them—though I recognize, even in this state of things, some there whom I knew, and who are still our brothers in heart. This mistake cost Braddock a galling defeat in the old French war; it cost the British many a humiliating defeat in the war of the Revolution. Do you think you can secure their loyalty by force?—Two or three sovereign States have been overrun and trampled under foot already. You have got a kind of foothold, which you call "peace;" but it is not peace—it is smothered wor! Maryland is in volcanic condition to-day; and the same spirit will rise at all times, in spite of all the chains you can put upon it and of all the ruin that is wrought. You may destroy their habitations, devastate their fields, and shed the blood of their people; still, you cannot conquer them. "Even in their ashes live their wonted fires."

I shall vote against these resolutions. I hope Congress will adopt some peace measures which I shall vote against these resolutions. I hope Congress will adopt some peace measures which shall hold the border States, and draw back those that have gone out—so that, in some fu-ture day, we may have the South again under the banner of the Union.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, MAT SESSION, A. D. 1861. WHEREAS, One-third of the sovereign States eretofore composing the United States, have fithdrawn from the Union, and the effort to withdrawn from the Union, and the effort to compel their return, and to enforce, within their limits, the laws of the United States, have assumed the proportions of a sivil war of vast magnitude, threatening the people of the country not only with the burdens of enormous taxes and public debt, but the destruction of thousands of men in deadly combat; therefore,

Resolved, That while we are in favor of maintaining the Constitution of the United States in the true spirit of its founders, and of upholding the Government organized in consonance there. the Government organized in consonance therwith, we believe it to be the duty of Congress with, we believe it to be the duty of Congress, now to assemble, to adopt the resolutions known as the "Crittenden Compromise," or some other plan of adjustment of similar design, for a fair and honorable termination of the present troubles. And in any event, we solomnly protest against any interference, by any warlike movement, with the institution of slavery where it is recognized by the Constitution of the United States, or for the purpose of disparaging the equality of the several States as United by the Federal Constitution.

It would do a great deal toward inspiring confidence in the Administration, if Mc. Cameron could be slipped out of the Cabinet. His notorious desire to fill his own pockets creates much distruct and disatisfaction—sending troops out of the regular and shortest course of transportation, to benefit railroads in which he is interested, is an abuse of power the people of the country are not disposed to telerate without ramportation, to benefit railroads in which he is interested, is an abuse of power the people of the country are not disposed to telerate without country are not disposed to telerate without ramportation; one which, if Congress be honest, it will thoroughly investigate. Almost from the mement the war communed the country has been complaining of his bad management. "It is idle," says the New York Times, an ardent Republican sheet, "to attempt a suppression of the fact that the public universally regards the administration of the War Department as surrounded with corrupt influences. Contracts have notoriously been made in disregard of all the usual dictates of prudence and connomy.—Transports have been hired at monthly rates double the entire value of the visels; arms and munitions have been bought at prices which only cease to seem excessive when we learn that one-fourth the cost passed into the pocket of the purchasing agent; the most worthless of trash has been received from favorites and paid for as if fully up to contract requirements; and in every transaction connected with our warlike preparations of the Government there.
